Course: Quality in Research

Introduction

Research is considered as fore wheels of a cart to drag rear wheels of teaching which is priority of any higher education institution. The fact is that quality teaching is not possible without good research because teaching is dependent upon new finding to be taught. Without having information being gathered through research, teaching process will remain inadequate. Who will do research and why should one go for research? These are few queries before academicians. To solve them, the academic administrators including vice chancellors and directors may take lead to promote faculty members and researchers for doing state-of-the-research. The main focus of academic leaders should be on fund raising either through government bodies or private sectors. Philanthropists may also be approached to enhance funding for research.

It is utmost important to improve the research quality of any institution for that every individual needs to be encouraged to get grants and develop a culture of grant writing. Research proposals for any grant must be hypothesis based with deliverables as per the need of the day. These grants will help in establishing as well as augmenting state-of-the-infrastructure which is prerequisite for any research project to attain its goal successfully.

The ethical consideration in research is of prime importance to claim your research output. The original idea to be implemented is your intellectual property and you deserve to claim it. This course contains ten lectures covering all possible aspects of research including, research methodology, ethical aspects, plagiarism, fundings, IT enables tools, and innovation and entrepreneurship concept. Participants will definitely benefit through this course and may improve their research profile.

Aim: To improve research ecosystem in Higher education Institutions.

Objective1: To educate basic strategy of conducting research

Objective2: Awareness to the original or plagiarism free research

Objective3: Cognizance of various funding agencies and its role in research improvement

Objective4: Understanding the concept of “Atmanirbhar Bharat” through research
